

REVIVAL BEGAN AT FOREST AVENUE M. E. CHURCH MONDAY

Third Street Pastor Is Evangelist at Revival Services Opening at East End Church—Many in Attendance.

Revival services began at Sedden M. E. church Monday evening with a good attendance and with Rev. Peters preaching in his usual attractive and winning manner. There was a fine choir made up of both Sedden and Third Street M. E. churches. The singing was full of the revival spirit. Mr. Geo. N. Harding is leading with his usual vigor.

The first sermon was an earnest appeal for complete submission to God's will in everything; for earnest and continued prayer; and for a willingness on the part of everyone to do his or her part for the success of the revival regardless of everything but the will of the Savior and the saving of lost men and women.

Prayer units were announced with leaders who will direct the holding of prayer meetings in home each morning at 10 o'clock. The evening services will begin at 7:30.

Mr. Harding, leader of the choir, announced that by the middle of the week new song books, "Victory Songs" the popular Rodeo song book used in all Billy Sunday meetings, would arrive and at once be put into use. The use of these bright, cheerful and inspiring songs will put life into the meetings. The public in general and the citizens of the city near this church especially are invited to all these services.

REPUTATION

The Bank of Maysville takes pride in the fact that it is considered a great asset to this community. It has built up this reputation by a live interest in county and city affairs. It is personally interested in this community, and values the good opinion of the people.

That old reliable bank has one unalterable purpose — and that purpose should be the purpose of all our citizens — to help Mason county realize its maximum prosperity in such a way that all may share it. It is like a great power house. When it throws in the clutch, gets the community point of view, and goes out to accomplish things, it becomes a great generator of public good. Thousands of people have caught the spirit of the Bank of Maysville — have discovered that it is a public spirited institution with a public service program. They have come in with their deposits and are co-operating with them in their great work.

If you are a man of affairs, you are looking for a progressive public-spirited bank which tries to do whatever a bank may do to increase the welfare and prosperity of the people of this community. The activities of the Bank of Maysville are along lines of progressive conservatism, combined with a knowledge of the actual needs of our community. The farmer and business man will find there an understanding of their problems, in the solution of which that bank will take interest in aiding. 9May5t

PLAYED PHONOGRAPH TO DROWN MOANS OF DYING BROTHER

Confession of Solderits Brothers Clears Up Mystery of Man Found in Ohio River at Ludlow With Feet Wired.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 8. — Driven to bay by the activities of the police since the wirebound body of Stephen Solderits was found floating in the Ohio River late Tuesday, and confronted by the evidence presented by Frank and Joseph Henz, 13 and 12 years old, respectively, Mike and Frank Solderits, brothers of the dead man, confessed today to what the police term one of the most heartless and cold-blooded deeds every recorded in Cincinnati.

Declaring that Stephen Solderits was shot in the left temple after the three brothers and Erwin Leischner had held up William Kirschhoff, paymaster of the J. H. Day Company, on the afternoon of April 22, they said, according to the police, they had taken the wounded man to the home of Frank Solderits, where he died.

Realizing that discovery of his death doubtless would lead to them being charged with robbery, the two men said they weighted their brother's body down, carried it to Chesapeake & Ohio bridge in the early morning hours of April 23 dropped it into the river where the current was swift.

No doctor was called to ease the wounded man's sufferings. As he died, a talking machine was played to drown the moans and outcries, they told the police.

The two Solderits men and Leischner were arrested after the Henz boys said they had seen Mike and Harry Solderits carry an object wrapped in a blanket to Frank Solderits' home on the day of the robbery.

Police tonight said they expected tomorrow to place only a charge of robbery against the Solderits brothers and Leischner pending further investigation of the case.
